DR. STEVEN BECKETT: In his mid 30s, wearing a lab coat and wheelchair-bound (the result of a skiing accident), this scientific genius and smart negotiator has designed a satellite system for the Army - and is developing a device to access wormholes leading to parallel worlds. Consulted by Colonel Rickman regarding the mysterious newcomers, Beckett is quick to suspect them of being Sliders - and is thrilled when the Sliders provide him with all the information he needs to complete his own device. An affectionate, devoted husband to Captain Maggie Beckett, he is horrified to contemplate the impending destruction of the world, and, together with Col. Rickman and the Sliders, determines to use his device to transport a few hundred people to safety on a parallel universe. He is described by Maggie as an inspiring, amazing man...GUEST LEAD (18) PLEASE SUBMIT PHYSICALLY CHALLENGED ACTORS. POSSIBLY APPEARING IN PART TWO. [Copyright 1996, BREAKDOWN SERVICES, LTD.]

MALCOLM: African American, 10 years old, first seen sitting in a tree, this upbeat, bright, outgoing boy in the parallel world catches Rembrandt trying to sneak out of the military facility - and befriends him. He chats openly with Rembrandt about his family, and asks his opinion about his stepmother's mysterious state of health after she falls into a coma. He invites Rembrandt to play basketball with him, and forms a bond with the Slider. He enthusiastically brings Rembrandt home to meet his dad - and weeps with shock and fear upon finding his father unconscious...GUEST LEAD (24) POSSIBLY APPEARING IN PART TWO. MAJOR ADRIENNE LOWRY: African American, in her late 30s, this dedicated military medical doctor leads a mystery person down the center aisle of the coma ward while describing for him / her the patients' comatose states. She describes the dramatic increase in victims, and admits that no cause has yet been found...2 speeches & 3 lines, 1 scene (16)

DR. VLADIMIR JARIABEK: 50 years old, with a Russian accent, this highly respected Russian cosmologist has been shot and is fleeing his pursuers when he crashes his car. As the Sliders rush to extract him from the vehicle, and just before dying, Dr. Jariabek blurts out an urgent, crucial warning...3 lines, 1 scene (5)

PAGE TWO...

LT. EASTMAN: 28 years old, this bored Air Force officer in the tracking station / laboratory casually gets up to look at a computer printout - and is shocked by what he sees. He wastes no time picking up the phone to call Dr. Jariabek - but is suddenly stabbed in the neck with a syringe, and falls down, comatose...1 speech & 2 lines, 1 scene (1)

STREET PERSON: A man, this smart street person in the alternate world ignores the Sliders despite their unusual method of arrival, and goes to work gathering useful objects. Not shy, he responds to the Sliders' questions, informing them of what's going on - and bemoaning the state of the government...2 speeches & 2 lines, 1 scene (3) [Copyright 1996, BREAKDOWN SERVICES, LTD.]

STORY LINE: The Sliders land on an alternate world which will be annihilated in three days by a nuclear pulsar beam, and are initially mistaken for spies. Brilliant scientist DR. STEVEN BECKETT has invented a device to access wormholes leading to parallel worlds, and, assisted by the Sliders crew, determines to save a few hundred people by transferring them to an alternate universe before his own world is destroyed. But the obstacles to his plan are many. Meantime, people on the alternate world are mysteriously falling into comas..
